The Health Care Foundation of Greater Kansas City and the REACH Healthcare Foundation partnered in 2007 on an initiative to provide uninsured and low-income girls and young women access to the HPV vaccine. The original goal was to immunize 5,500 girls and young women. Over the course of three years, the initiative reached more than 10,000 individuals.

We invite you to a special forum where we will share evaluation results of the HPV Vaccine Initiative and discuss new developments regarding the HPV vaccine.
